Why business debt is NOT a dirty word

There’s something undeniably thrilling about running a bootstrapped business — throwing all your personal savings behind an idea and waking up each morning knowing that everything you’ve built is the direct result of your own sweat and tears.

But it can also be frustrating to have to put new ideas on hold or to pass on a perfect growth opportunity for your business simply because you don’t have enough capital saved up to make it happen.

When Peak Design had a new product design ready for launch, Peter borrowed $200K to turn his idea into revenue. Learn more about Peak Design’s story.

It’s okay to be a little nervous taking out a business loan for the first time. In fact, some healthy skepticism is important to keep you from falling for a loan shark with dangerously high interest rates. But successful small business owners know that consistent access to affordable capital is one of the keys to building a resilient company.
A business with an appropriate amount of debt can be the sign of a healthy business — a business that is increasing supply to meeting swelling customer demand, a business that is thinking strategically to outmaneuver its competitors, a business with an owner that was Made to do More.

Top 5 reasons small businesses borrow money

1. Buy inventory or equipment
   Invest in new equipment and fulfill every order through bulk inventory purchases.

2. Hire more employees
   Expand your team by attracting and retaining the best staff.

3. Move or expand to a new space
   Give your business room to grow with a bigger office, a new retail location, or more warehouse space.

4. Increase visibility and customer loyalty
   Tell existing customers about a new product or refresh your marketing strategy to bring in additional revenue.

5. Refinance existing debt
   Convert high-interest debt into one monthly payment at a fixed rate you can afford, with no early repayment penalties.

“I never knew there was an entirely new category of lending in that sweet spot between SBA loans and hard money leasing companies. I’ve been doing this for so long and know a lot about financing, but I just never knew about this new category of lender.”

Loan terms

Interest rates can fluctuate considerably between lenders and the rate you receive depends on a number of factors — from the type of financing and term length, to your credit score and whether the loan is secured by assets.

“The loan from Funding Circle was less expensive than my credit cards in terms of interest, and the lower monthly payments helped balance my cash flow almost immediately.”

The bottom line

A merchant cash advance (MCA) is generally designed as an option for businesses that need a small injection of money, quickly, for a very short period of time. Almost any business can get approved in just a few hours, but you could potentially pay for that speed and superficial underwriting process with dangerously high interest rates.

An SBA loan or traditional bank loan generally offer some of the lowest interest rates available. But unless you have an exemplary personal and business credit history, it can be difficult to get approved. Because their application process is infamously slow and impersonal, you can spend months jumping through hoops and waiting around only to find you’ve been denied.

A Funding Circle term loan was designed by small business owners for small businesses. It takes just a few minutes to apply and you can get funded in as few as 10 days. Our most creditworthy applicants receive rates that are competitive with traditional bank loans, and because we believe in an honest, transparent borrowing experience you’ll know exactly how much you have to repay each month with no hidden fees or prepayment penalties.

What documentation is typically required?

By providing just a few financial documents, we can get a much more holistic view of your business and approve you for a loan amount and interest rate that will help your business grow. Upload the following documents directly into our secure portal or email them to appupdates@fundingcircle.com.

- Two years of business tax returns
- Most recent personal tax return (everyone who owns ≥ 20% of the business)
- Six months of bank statements (most recent bank statements at time of application)

Will you qualify?

We lend across a variety of industries including food and restaurant, medical, professional services, retail and ecommerce, agriculture, construction, and more. All applicants must have a registered business (LLCs are eligible, but sole proprietorships are not) with demonstrated revenue on at least two years of business tax returns.

When you apply, we will evaluate the creditworthiness of your business using a variety of factors to give us a “big picture” view of your business and a detailed look at your ability to generate the revenue needed to repay the loan.

We don’t believe that any single metric should define the success of a business. So while we will look at your personal FICO score, we will also consider your personal assets and your overall business profile to see if our term loan is a good fit for your financial needs.

Taking the next step

With twelve different hats to wear and a million and half things already on your plate, you shouldn’t have to worry about the status of your loan application. We’ll keep you in the loop every step of the way.

Complete an application in about 10 minutes and we’ll let you know if you are approved in as little as 24 hours. Start application

Applying won’t affect your credit score!*

*If your business is organized as a general partnership, your credit score may be impacted when you submit your application.
